SOFT SKILL TRAINING WORKSHOP

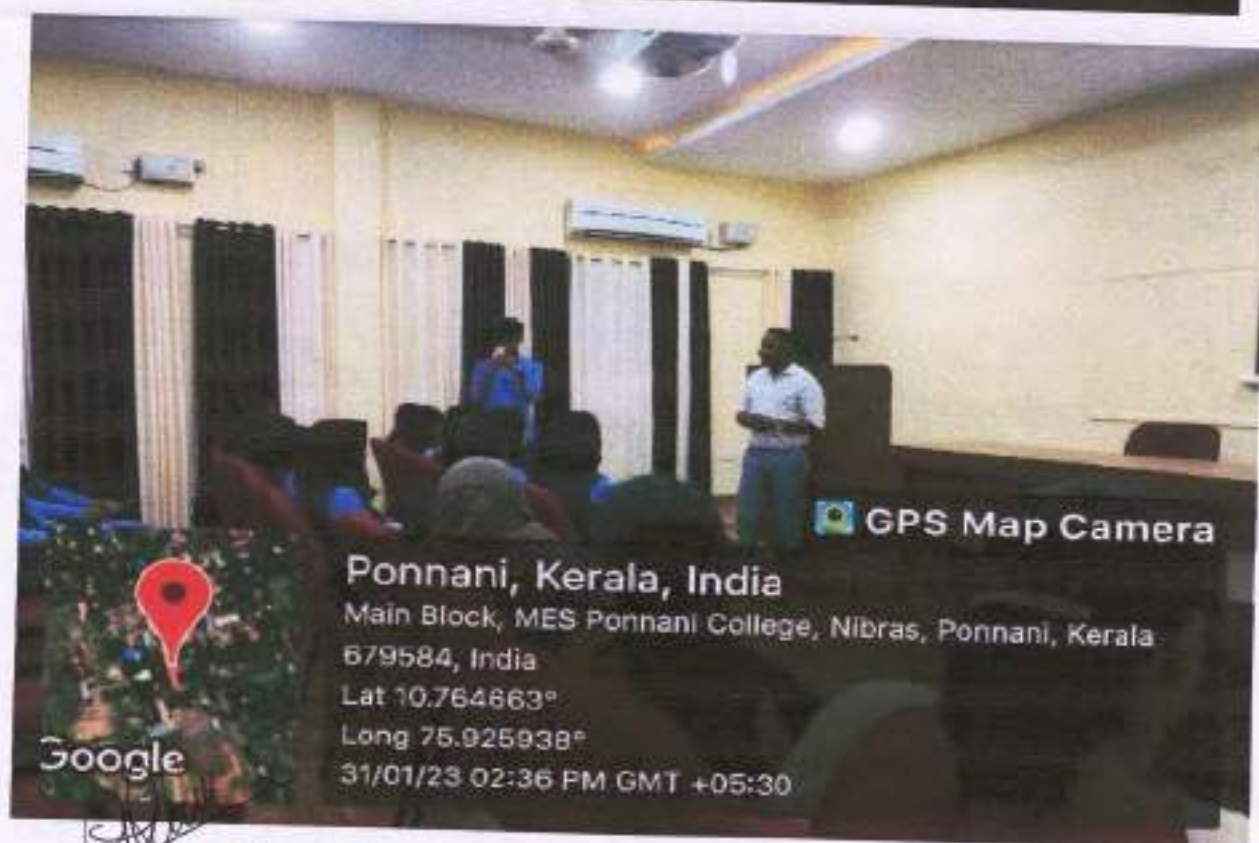

"To have another language is to possess a second soul". Wouldn't learning a language different from our mother tongue be a skill? Nirbhaya Women Development Cell & IEDC of MES Ponnani College in association with the Department of English proved this through a session called "How a language should be learned: For a better speaking skill" on 31 January 2023 in the college's conference hall. The session was coordinated by Ms. Arathi Pradeep and Nafla Nelliye which began at 2:00 pm. Ms. Arathi Pradeep welcomed the gathering. Mr. Nisam Thavayil, the CEO and founder of Headword Academy handled the session. Mr. Nisam talked about the importance of global language and how communication is the only key to learn to speak a language. "The only normal way to begin speaking in a new language is to begin speaking badly", the chief guest inspired the whole audience. Ms. Nafla proposed a vote of thanks.

The poster is black with white and yellow text. At the top left, it says 'NIRBHAYA WOMEN CELL MES Ponnani College'. At the top right is the 'NIRBHAYA' logo. The main title is 'HOW A LANGUAGE SHOULD BE LEARNED?' in large white letters, with the subtitle 'For a Better Speaking Skill' in smaller white letters. The date and time are '31 January 2023 2:00 PM' and the location is 'Conference hall'. Below this, the coordinators are listed: 'Arathi Pradeep: 9048418019' and 'Nafla: 90480 44705'. On the right side, there is a photo of Mr. Nisam Thavayil, a man in a blue blazer. Below the photo is a yellow box with his name and title: 'NISAM THAVAYIL CEO & Founder of Headword Academy'.

World Youth Skills Day focuses on the strategic importance of equipping young people with skills for employment, decent work and entrepreneurship. The main goal of this day is to equip young people around the world with essential skills for employment, work and entrepreneurship. Creating an effective demo day presentation has become an important part in celebrating World Youth Skill Day. The objective of the event was to create awareness related to Business Models and plans to our students and to provide the students with the skills they need to be successful in business and entrepreneurial field in future. The Benefits of this programme is to help students to develop critical thinking skills and other higher levels of learning to be competitive in the job market especially in business field. A demo day is a formal reveal of an accelerator's talent and it should be very visual and contain very little text when student entrepreneurs present their ideas. Eleven featured teams were presented their business models and plans at the corridor of M.E.S Ponnani College and three of them selected to make a presentation on stage as part of the event. Business models and plan presentations helps the students to design and sell their idea to investors through a concise and engaging overview of what their business does, how it fills a consumer need and what they are looking for in terms of an investment. BUDGET ANALYSIS CONDUCTED ON 08/02/2023

Budget is an instrument that helps translate public policies into concrete actions and desired outcomes. P.G Department of Economics conducted Budget Analysis on 08/02/2023 at Seminar Hall. All students and teachers participated in the programme. Programme inaugurated by Dr. Bushara M.V, welcome by Ambili S and Vote of Thanks delivered by Anagha P.

The first session was taken by Mr. Mukul Pandey and discussed the basics things about budget and job opportunities generated by the Government in the budget. Budget is an instrument that helps translate public policies into concrete actions and desired outcomes. It is a blue print for converting intentions into reality. Like any tool it needs continuous honing. The budgetary practices in India have, however, largely remained unchanged over the years. A few 'innovations' such as the performance budgeting introduced in seventies as recommended by the first Administrative Reforms Commission and the subsequent 'zero based' budgeting have been outside the mainstream budgeting. The outcome budgeting introduced in 2005 has similarly remained on the margins. They have not had the desired impact on public expenditure management.

Second session was taken by Mr. Rajeev Sinha and discussed about the digital economy and fintech, technology enabled development, energy transition and climate action. The objective of Seminar Aligning India's macroeconomic growth with a focus on microeconomic level all-inclusive welfare. Complementing the macro-economic level growth focus with a micro-economic level all-inclusive welfare focus

PONNANI FISHING HARBOUR

PG and Research Department of Aquaculture and Fishery Microbiology organised a field trip to Ponnani Fishing Harbour on 23 November 2022 as a part of M.Sc. curriculum. Ponnani harbour is located at the mouth of Bharathappuzha river where Bharathappuzha river & Ponnani-Tirur river join with each other and empties together into Arabian Sea. Opposite side of harbour is Patinjarekkara village and beach. This harbour has a historical importance for trading and battles. Presently about 1250 country canoes and 350 mechanized boats are operating from Ponnani. The annual fish landings at Ponnani are about 25000 tonnes. There are about 15000 fishermen in and around Ponnani. The economic state of fisherman living near Ponnani and adjoining without board engine and providing harbour activities are considered as to most important step to attain sufficiency for the fisherman.

The harbour is usually bustling with activity, as fishermen bring in their catches and unload them at the harbour. Fisherman who works in the harbour were very friendly and they all explained us in detail about how the fishing is done, which time will they go for fishing, described about the species of fish which they will catch, best season of catch of each species fish etc. They use various fishing methods, including traditional methods such as fishing with nets, as well as modern

CENTRAL MARINE FISHERIES RESEARCH INSTITUTE

PG and Research Department of Aquaculture and Fishery Microbiology organised a field visit to Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute, Kochi on 3rd February 2023 in connection with open house day of CMFRI.

The ICAR-Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute was established by Government of India on February 3rd 1947 under the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare and later it joined the ICAR family in 1967. During the course of over 75 years the Institute has emerged as a leading tropical marine fisheries research institute in the world. Since its inception, the CMFRI grew significantly in its size and stature and built up adequate research infrastructure and recruited qualified staff. During the first half of the five decades of its existence, the CMFRI devoted its research attention towards the estimation of marine fisheries landings and effort, taxonomy of marine organisms and the bio-economic characteristics of the exploited stocks of finfish and shellfish. This research effort contributed significantly to India's marine fisheries development from a predominantly artisanal, sustenance fishery till the early sixties to that of a complex, multi-gear, multispecies fisheries.

One of the major achievements of CMFRI is the development and refinement of a unique method for estimation of fishery catch and effort from the over 8000 km coastline called the "Stratified Multistage Random Sampling Method". With this methodology the Institute is maintaining the National Marine Fisheries Data Centre (NMFDC) with over 9 million catch and effort data records from all maritime states of India of more than 1000 fished species. Subsequently, with the infrastructure and expertise built over half a century and looking towards the future needs of the nation, CMFRI began to undertake research in new areas like marine finfish farming, biotechnology and biodiversity. Along with this, fisheries management plans for each maritime state were formulated and the institute addressed climate change issues affecting coastal habitats and fishers. In the mariculture front, commercial bivalve farming became a popular women empowerment programme in the beginning of this century. The new knowledge and technologies developed in finfish farming have been transferred to end users and many cutting edge technologies have been patented in marine biotechnology.

MARINE BIODIVERSITY MUSEUM

We got an opportunity to visit Marine Biodiversity Museum of the Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute (CMFRI) as part of the open house day of the CMFRI. The CMFRI museum has several exhibits, including preserved specimens of fish, crustaceans, molluscs and other marine organisms. The museum also has models of fishing gear and traditional fishing methods used along the Indian coast. Visitors can learn about the different marine ecosystems in India including coral reefs, mangroves and seagrass beds. The museum has a large collection of fish specimens that represents the diverse marine fish fauna found along the Indian coast. The specimens are displayed in glass jars filled with preserving fluid, which allows visitors to observe the different shapes, size and colour of the fish. The collection includes both commercially important species and lesser - known species of fish.

In addition to fish specimens the museum also has displays of preserved crustaceans such as crabs, lobsters, and shrimp. There are also molluscs specimens on display, including clams, oysters and snails. The museum also features stuffed specimens of marine mammals, turtles and birds. The CMFRI museum is open to the public and is a popular attraction for tourists interested in marine biology and fisheries. The museum is a great place to learn about the rich marine biodiversity of the Indian coast and the importance of sustainable fishing practices. The visit to the CMFRI MUSEUM was a great learning experience for us. We are grateful to the sir for taking the time to explain the specimens in the museum and provide us with a glimpse into the exciting world of marine organisms.

CMFRI- CENTRAL LIBRARY

We visited the central library on 3/2/23 at 3.00pm. CMFRI library is one of the best-specialized libraries in the field of fisheries and marine science. CMFRI has rare and old publications in marine science and fisheries housed at Mandapam Regional Centre Library while the state of the art library in the headquarters has over 60,000 books and periodicals and over 400 scientific journals. There are 70 national and international print journals and 82 online journals and accessible in the Headquarters Regional / Research Centres through Internet. The digital library with substantial digital resources including videos is connected by LAN to all computers in the Headquarters and Regional / Research Centres through intranet for easy access to users from their desktops. Computerized search facility and electronic check in and check out are available.

FISH AGE LABORATORY

The fish age lab is mainly aimed at supplementing fishery biology and stock assessment research programmes by determining the age of fishes using hard parts especially otoliths. The research of the lab provide a great impetus to the marine fisheries research of the counting. The lab is presently building a database of the age structure of major exploited resources for application in stock assessment models. Ongoing programme of the lab include ageing studies on Indian oil sardine, Indian Mackerel, Yellowfin tuna, Silver Pompano cobia and preparation of otolith manual of Indian marine fishes with detached otolith morphometrics for species and stock confirmation.

Dr.EM Abdusamad handled the sessions on age determination through otoliths and the instruments used for age determination. The lab was decorated with the ornaments made through the otoliths. We spent more than two hours in the age lab which gave great information to us about the age determination.

MOLLUSCAN FISHERIES DIVISION (MFD)

Mollusca Fisheries division of the Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute (CMFRI) focus on the study of taxonomy, biology, ecology, and fisheries of Molluscans. MFD's research primarily focuses on commercially important mollusc species, such as squid, cuttlefish, octopus, and various types of clams, oysters, and snails. The lab's goal is to gain a better understanding of these species' life histories, population dynamics, and habitat requirements, as well as to develop sustainable management strategies to ensure their long-term survival. MFD employs various research methods, including field surveys, experimental studies, and genetic analyses, to provide scientific data and recommendations for policymakers, fisheries managers, and industry stakeholders. The lab also collaborates with national and international research institutions and organizations to advance the knowledge and conservation of molluscs.

Some of the commercially important species that the lab focuses on include:

1. Indian squid (Loligo duvaucelti)
2. Indian oil sardine (Sardinella longiceps) - often used as bait for catching squid
3. Cuttlefish (Sepia pharaonis)
4. Octopus (Octopus vulgaris)
5. Green mussel (Perna viridis)
6. Edible oyster (Crassostrea madrasensis)
7. Blood cockle (Anadara granosa)
8. Short-necked clam (Paphia malabarica)

The pearl oyster culture program at CMFRI Kochi is focused on developing sustainable methods for farming and producing high- quality pearls from the Indian pearl oyster (Pinctada fucata). The program involves various activities, including breeding, hatchery production, nursery rearing, and grow-out culture of pearl oysters. The main aim of the program is to develop a viable and economically sustainable pearl farming industry in India that can benefit the local communities and provide a valuable export commodity.

The pearl oyster culture program at CMFRI Kochi involves collaboration with several other institutions and organizations, including the Department of Biotechnology. Some of the key achievements of the pearl oyster culture program at CMFRI Kochi include the successful development of hatchery techniques for producing pearl oyster seed, the establishment of a pearl oyster nursery, and the development of grow- out culture methods for producing high- quality pearls. Dr. Paulton, Technical officer provided us with all the information about pearl oyster culture they doing over there. Overall, the pearl oyster culture program at CMFRI Kochi is an important initiative that is helping to develop a sustainable and profitable industry for pearl farming in India.

MARICULTURE DIVISION IN CMFRI

We visited the mariculture division of the Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute (CMFRI) on 3/2/23 at 2pm. The mariculture division in the CMFRI is mainly focused on captive broodstock development, induced spawning and seed production of cobia, silver pompano, orange spotted grouper, indian pompano. They also concentrated in the captive breeding and seed production techniques of selected clown fishes.

Broodstock development and breeding of cobia by photothermal regulation in Recirculatory Aquaculture System (RAS). Also there is isolation and culture of selected copepods as live feed for larviculture. There is also the breeding and seed production of Penaeus semisulcatus, Portunus pelagicus and Themus unimaculatus. CMFRI mariculture division also evolving in the protocols for sea cage farming of cobia and health management strategies in hatchery, nursery and growout production of marine finfishes. The visit to the CMFRI mariculture division was a great learning experience for us. We are grateful to the division personnel for taking the time to explain their research and provide us with a glimpse in to the exciting area of mariculture systems.

REPORT

The program was organized by Department of Chemistry in collaboration with the Institutions Innovation Council (IIC) and Innovation and Entrepreneurship Development Centre (IEDC) cells of the campus. ENHANCED SOFT SKILL TRAINING

Department of English

Introduction:

The English Department has always been a hub of innovative teaching and learning methods. In recent times, there has been a significant shift towards student-centric methods of teaching, where the focus is on enhancing the learning experiences of the students. In this report, we will discuss three student-centric methods, namely experiential learning, participative learning, and problem-solving methodologies, and explore how ICT tools can be used to enhance these methods.

ICT

The English Communicative classes conducted in the language lab have been a great success. The classes are designed to help students learn and practice their conversational skills, vocabulary, grammar and pronunciation interactively. Students have found these classes to be very engaging as they involve activities such as role-playing, debates and group discussions that allow them to actively participate in the learning process. Furthermore, there is also ample opportunity for feedback from both instructors and peers which helps students identify areas of improvement quickly.

FIELD TRIP TO KAMALA SURAYYA'S MEMORIAL AT PUNNAYURKALAM

Department of English organized a one day field trip to Kamala Surayya's memorial at Punnayurkalam on 26 July 2022. Kamala Surayya Das (Madhavikkutty 1934 – 2009) was an iconoclast and an incomparable literary genius, fluent both in English and Malayalam. The trip was organized to make the students acquainted with aspects and facets that inspired the author. The memorial is located in the 17 cents of her ancestral property in Punnayurkulam in Thrissur district. In May 2006 she donated the property to the Kerala Sahitya Akademi terming the land and trees as her “kingdom of emotions” that inspired her writings, and could “bring a bit of fragrance” to Malayalam literature. It was an inspirational and exciting experience for the students to visit the ‘Serpentgrove’, ‘Pond’ ‘Neermathalam’ etc., the recurrent themes in her works. It was a memorable walk, recreating the verses which the students have experienced through text books only.

FIELD TRIP TO THE KOCHI MUZRIN BIENNALE

The fourth-semester students of the English Department at MES Ponnani College embarked on a thrilling field trip to the Kochi Muzris Biennale on 24/02/2023. The trip aimed to expose students to contemporary art installations around the world. The journey began early in the morning, with all teachers in the English department accompanying the students. The three-hour drive to Kochi was quite enjoyable, with students chatting and sharing their experiences and expectations.

Upon arrival, the students were fascinated by the various contemporary art installations displayed at the venue. The teachers explained the intricacies of each installation, and how they relate to literature, enriching the experience. The students were thrilled to explore the different perspectives of art and the meaning each installation conveyed.

After spending ample time at the venue, the group wandered around Kochi to explore the cultural diversity present in the city. Visiting the Jewish Synagogue, Fort Kochi Beach, and the Dutch Palace was a highlight of the trip.

The field trip also provided a platform for the students to bond with the teachers outside of the classroom. They could interact and learn from them in a different light, helping to transcend differences. The trip was an excellent learning and growth opportunity, both academically and personally.

TOUR REPORT

Industrial Visit to National Institute of Oceanography, Goa on 30/01/2023

The industrial visit of BSc. Physics 2020-23 was held at National Institute of Oceanography or NIO, Goa. Understanding oceanography is much needed to uncover the underlying secrets of the deep trenches inside our oceans. It's much more used for studying the tectonic shifts of our earth. All these combined made the subject of oceanography kind of mysterious to us all. As a result, all of the students and accompanying staff indeed gained some valuable knowledge after the session. It was really an experience that no one will ever forget. The visit was kickstarted by Dr. Ramesh Kumar. He gave us a deep insight on what oceanography is about and how it is relevant in modern day science. This session inspired to all our minds and we yearned for more knowledge on the same.

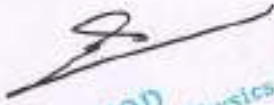

The National Institute of Oceanography (NIO) with its headquarters at Dona Paula, Goa, and regional centres at Kochi, Mumbai and Visakhapatnam, is one of the 37 constituent laboratories of the Council of Scientific & Industrial Research (CSIR), New Delhi.

CSIR-NIO was established on 1 January 1966 following the International Indian Ocean Expedition (IIOE) in the 1960s. The institute has since grown into a multi-disciplinary oceanographic research institute of international repute. The principal focus of research has been on observing and understanding special oceanographic characteristics of the Indian Ocean. The results have been reported in more than 5000 research articles so far.

The institute has a sanctioned strength of 200 scientists and 100 technical support staff. The major research areas include the four traditional branches of oceanography - biological, chemical, geological/geophysical, and physical - as well as ocean engineering, marine instrumentation and marine technology.

...a Q&A session, our visit came to an end and was deemed to be successful. Never have we ever thought that oceanography would be this engaging to us. We found the reality of many things that we thought we knew. This visit completely gave us a new perspective on understanding our world more deeply.
