The first question was about the rate relevance of the courses in relation to the program. The feedback given should be the choice like excellent, very good, good, average and poor in all the questions in the curriculum. Fifty eight percent commented excellent and 33% graded very good (Fig. 1). The second question was about the sufficiency of the courses related to industry that are included in the program. Fifty percent agreed with excellence and 41% with very good (Fig. 2). Third and 4th question was about the competencies/ outcomes in relation to the course content and relevance of the topics to the industry. Not less than 50% employee marked excellent for both the questions and 25% and 33% responded very good for questions 3 and 4 respectively (Fig. 3 and Fig. 4).

The next 4 questions in the employee feedback form were related to the curriculum and the impact in industry and the relevance of experiments in the curriculum with real life. Sixty six percentage of the employee responded very good and 60% responded excellent (Fig. 5). Forty one percent responded excellent and very good for elective papers in curriculum in relation to the technological advancement (Fig. 6).

More than 40% responded very good for the experiments included in the curriculum which helped for their industrial and real life applications (Fig. 7 and Fig. 8). Fifty eight percentage employees rated excellent with the students working with them (Fig 9).
