Dear Sir/Madam

Subject: Proposal for Collaborative Lecture Series - Departments of English

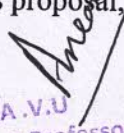

I trust this letter finds you well. I am writing to express the enthusiasm of the Departments of English at MES Ponnani College, Ponnani, Malappuram, and MES College Marampally, Aluva, Ernakulam, for initiating a collaborative lecture series. The prospect of bringing together the intellectual resources of our respective institutions is an exciting opportunity to enhance the academic experiences of our students.

After careful consideration, we propose two intriguing topics for the collaborative lecture series:

From Drama to Cultural Performance: Changing Trajectories of Tradition - A Vernacular Perspective

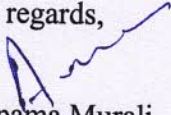

Gendered Attitude, Challenging the Preconceived Notions of Gender and Sexuality

These topics were selected to provide a diverse and comprehensive exploration of themes that are not only relevant but also hold the potential to engage our students in meaningful discussions. We believe that hosting joint lectures on these topics will not only expose our students to varied perspectives but also facilitate an exchange of ideas between our institutions. To ensure the success of this collaborative initiative, we propose forming a joint organizing committee consisting of representatives from both institutions.
